GOV. EASLEY CONVENES EXTRA SESSION

RALEIGH – Gov. Mike Easley today convened an extra session for Tuesday, December 9, 2003 at 4:00 p.m. to consider specific economic development issues.

“North Carolina has several pending economic development projects that necessitate this one-day extra session,” said Easley. “We are poised to bring some high quality jobs and industry to the state, but we need to make some additional changes to secure them.”

The extra session is called pursuant to the authority vested in the Governor by Article III, Section 5(7) of the Constitution of North Carolina.
